Labex MME-DII, CEPN and INFER Network:

7th WORKSHOP ON
APPLIED MACRO-ECONOMETRICS

Paris University 13, Sorbonne Paris Cité,
Friday October 4th 2019

The Labex MME-DII, the CEPN CNRS UMR n° 7234 and the INFER network are jointly organizing the 7th workshop on Applied Macro-Econometrics. The goal of this workshop is to bring together European applied macroeconomists to discuss current frontier research on a regular basis.

Applications from economists from all French and worldwide institutions are welcomed in all fields of applied macroeconomics and applied econometrics including financial, international, monetary, fiscal and non-linear econometrics. Empirical contributions are welcome.

The workshop is a one day workshop, which will take place at “Maison des Sciences de l’Homme” (MSH Paris Nord) in Paris on Friday October 4th 2019.

Interested authors submit a complete paper in electronic form (PDF format) at JEAMLabexMMEDII@gmail.com by September 1th 2019

The authors of accepted papers will be notified at the latest by September 10th

Organizers:

The workshop is jointly organized by the International Network for Economic Research (INFER) the CEPN (Université Paris 13) and the Labex MME-DII.
Working on a joint interdisciplinary project centred on mathematical, economic and financial modelling, the LABEX MME-DII consortium is composed of over 150 researchers specialized in such areas as economics, mathematics and physics. It brings together seven higher education and research institutions of the Île-de-France region. MME-DII's ambition is to constitute an internationally recognized research center in the modelling of stochastic processes, of decision-making in situations of uncertainty, and of the dynamics of strategic interactions. By combining such cross-disciplinary areas of knowledge as mathematics, economics and theoretical physics, MME-DII will help shed light on major societal challenges, ranging from the prevention of financial crises to the management of environmental risks.
