

INFER Workshop on Business Policy & Regional Development

The development of business policies and public policies to enhance regional development

July 14, 2007 Wooster, Ohio USA

Saturday, July 14, 2007

Time
9:00 – 9:45	Registration Continental Breakfast
9:45 – 10:00	Welcome by INFER and College of Wooster
	Session 1
10:00 – 12:00	Amyaz A. Moledin, College of Wooster, USA and Avais Karmali Tests of Faith: Were Malaysian Islamic Banks more efficient than Conventional Banks during the Asian Financial Crisis Frederic Jennings, Ecological Economics, Massachusetts, USA, Competition of Collaboration? The Interrelation of Firms and Agents in Regional Economic Development James Burnell, College of Wooster, USA, Employment Density, Subcenters, and Land-use Policy James A. Hornsten, College of Wooster, USA, Endogenous Boards of Directors and Proxy Fights
12:00 – 13:30	Lunch, The Wooster Inn
	Session 2
13:30 – 15:30	Amyaz A. Moledina, College of Wooster, USA, Terry L. Roe, University of Minnesota, USA, and Mathew Shane, USDA, USA, Measuring Commodity Price Volatility and the Welfare Consequences of Eliminating Volatility Gerd Meinhold and Michael Pickhardt, Chemnitz University of Technology, Germany, Road Pricing and Braess' Paradox – A Large Numbers Case James A. Hornsten, College of Wooster, USA, Corporate Directors and Firm-Specific Human Capital
15:30 – 15:45	Concluding Remarks
15:45	Adjourn to Olde Jaol Brewing Company